Purpose and Benefits:

1. To unite into one organization all peace officers and non peace-officers regardless of religion, sex, race, creed color, national origin or age, who share a common interest in drug law enforcement.
2. To continually provide training for members, in all aspects of drug law enforcement through an annual training conference and other training as sanctioned by the Association's officers.
3. To exchange information between members of the Association on the movements of drug violators and on new and innovative techniques used by either criminals or investigators.
4. To exchange information favorable to effective drug enforcement and to oppose detrimental legislation.
5. To provide the public with suitable information on drug abuse.
6. To work for professionalism of drug enforcement through cultural, legislative, political, fraternal, educational, charitable, welfare, social and other activities which further the interest of the Association and its membership, directly and indirectly.
7. To foster an atmosphere of cooperation and information sharing among all law enforcement in Colorado, private industry and the public. To provide assistance, financial, moral, or other to other police and law enforcement organizations or other bodies having purpose and objectives in whole or in part similar or related to those of this Association.
8. To protect and preserve the Association as an institution and to perform its legal and contractual obligations.

History:

The Colorado Drug Investigators Association (CDIA) was formed in 2002 as a means of creating a dynamic professional and fraternal organization. Our membership consists of individuals involved in law enforcement, corrections, prosecutions, security professionals and other eligible individuals from local, state and federal levels. The Association is a non profit organization and works for the benefit of the membership. The Association is the soul merchandiser of CDIA items and all profits are returned to the Association treasury for the mutual benefit of the membership.
